LITTLE RELIEF PROMISED IN FIRE STRICKEN AREA BY WEATHER BUREAU FORECASTS

By Associated Press.

Seattle, Wash., July 15.—The Pacific Northwest today entered its second week of the forest fire menace, which has taken a toll of nine lives and destroyed thousands of dollars of valuable timber and the United States Weather Bureau gave little hope of relief from dry weather. Continued high temperatures and low humidity and winds were predicted.

The latest death resulting from the fires were Mrs. Leslie Watt and her two children and Mrs. Clifford Nesbit. They were trapped by a fire while driving in an automobile between Banff, Alberta, and Windermere, B. C., Tuesday. The other five persons were reported killed or missing some days ago.

In the Ranier National Forest of Western Washington progress in combatting flames was reported by aviators who flew over the burning area and notified fire fighters when blazes were located.

Co-operation of Boy Scouts in fire fighting at Sutan, in Northwestern Washington, was praised by officials.

British Columbia reported widely scattered flames eating through large stands of timber.

A fire in Jackson county, Oregon, spread over the Dudley Mountain district in thick timber. In the Dooley Mountain area 600 men fought a large blaze. Fifty fires were repored in the Sequoia National Forest.

BOSTON PHYSICIAN AND WIFE SOUGHT IN CASE OF DISMEMBERED BODY FOUND

By Associated Press.

Boston, July 15.—Warrants charging murder were issued today for Dr. Thomas E. Walsh and his wife who were alleged to have performed an illegal operation on Miss Edith L. Greene, state ward, whose dismembered body was found yesterday.

James V. Ford, a 21-year-old shipping clerk, was arrested after he assumed blame for the condition of Miss Greene.

Ford said he had taken the girl to the doctor. He received an urgent call from the physician on Sunday, he said, and upon reaching his office the girl had died.

He said he refused to assist in the disposition of the body which was subsequently discovered near a cemetery wall.

The police last night raided the office of the physician in the South End but both he and his wife had disappeared. Ford, sweetheart of the dead girl, told police that he took her to Dr. Walsh last Friday and that tthe physician told him on Sunday she had died after an operation. Police said they would prefer charges as accessory against Ford.

Dr. Walsh is well known to the police. He has been convicted of practice without a license and has been arrested on other charges. In May 1912, he was held for a time as a suspicious person in connection with an abortion case, and in 1920, after he had been indicted for an illegal operation the case was placed on file and he was not prosecuted. A little later he was found not guilty of violation of the Federal Narcotic law.

In September, 1923, following a complaint by the State Board of Registration in Medicine that Walsh was holding himself out as a practicing physician without a license, he was convicted and fined $200.

COOLIDGE MAY PARTICIPATE IN CAMPAIGN

By Associated Press.

Paul Smith's N. Y., July 13.—President Coolidge has no plan at present for participation in the congressional campaign this fall and in the absence of any announcement by him any references to the subject that may appear in print should be regarded as mere supposition.

The position of the President in the face of various published rports as to his political plans since he came to the Adriondacks, was made clear at the executive office today.

For the present he has contented himself with a policy of hands off, in as much as the primary contests are yet to be disposed of and his apparent view is that the executive should not inject himself into purely party fights.

CENTRALIZATION OF GOVERNMENT SCORED BY BAR ASSOCIATION

STATED AMERICAN CITIZENS BARTERING INDIVIDUAL LIBERTIES

By Associated Press.

Denver, Colo., July 15.—Increasing paternalism of the Federal government was scored today by the American Bar Association.

The organization's 49th annual convention placed itself on record through adoption of the report made by its committee on American citizenship which declared that the "American citizen of today is bartering his individual liberties and rights for government bounties and bonuses," and decried the increasing tendency toward centralization in government.

"The Roman citizens bartered their ancient liberties for bread and circusses. The American citizen today is bartering his individuality for bonuses; he surrenders his individuality for it. The American citizen is being papuerized. If he supports the government in return to support him" the report said in part.

By Associated Press.

Austin, July 15.—Guy Holcomb, campaign manager for Governor Miriam A. Ferguson late Wednesday filed the second expense account for the Governor and himself. The total expended by Holcomb amounts to $6,040.24, with the total expended by the Governor $396.92. Her first account totalled $229.30, exclusive of $100 for putting her name on the ticket.

Holcomb's statement shows that most of the money expended was for literature, stamps and stationery. The Governor's expenses were for traveling.

Davidson affirmed he had received no contributions and had borrowed no money. He said he had turned over $5,650 to his manager, Joe Hale, for campaign expenses.

Hale reported expenditures of $6,304.03 under his direction of which $1,231.65 is unpaid. Davidson said he had personally expended $696.30, of which $100 was for getting his name on the ticket, and $596.30 for traveling expenses.

SANTA FE ENGINEER KILLED IN WRECK OF PASSENGER TRAIN

GOVERNOR MIRIAM A. FERGUSON ON TRAIN BUT NOT SERIOUSLY HURT

By Associated Press.

Temple, Texas, July 15.—The Governor of Texas, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, returning from a campaign speech, calmly slept through the confusion of a train wreck in which an engineer was killed and a fireman injured near here early today.

A santa Fe passenger train southbound from Fort Worth to Galveston ran into an open switch and collided with a freight train on the siding five miles south of here at 2 a. m. The engines were telescoped. Engineer W. G. Flue of Cleburne was killed and Fireman C. A. Casson of Cleburne injured. The enginemen of the freight were not on their locomotive at the time. Casson is reported in a serious condition in a hospital here.

A dozen passengers in the day coach were shaken up, but no one was disturbed in the sleeper, which merely came to a stop with a sudden jerk.

Governor Ferguson did not know there had been a wreck until she was awakened. Though uninjured, she was somewhat shocked by the impact. Her first thought was to ascertain whether she could aid the injured. Governor Ferguson and other passengers returned to Temple in the coaches in which they were riding after an engine being sent from here.

Arriving at her home town of Temple, Mrs. Ferguson made a holiday of the occasion, as it relieved her from the affairs of state. She called on friends for a visit and telephoned the executive mansion that she was uninjured, admonishing her household not to be worried.

Mrs. Ferguson was on her way to Austin from Brownwood where she spoke last night. She expected to return to Austin this afternoon.

Governor Not Injured in Wreck.

By Associated Press.

Temple, Texas, July 15.—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson is "as sound as a dollar" following her experience in a train wreck here last night when a Southbound Santa Fe passenger train crashed into a freight on a siding at Heidenheimer early this morning. She is not nervous in any way her most apparent emotions being of sorrow over the death of the engineer of her train and the serious injury of the fireman. She was sleeping in the Pullman next to the rear and said the noise of the wreck was "like a clap of thunder."

She will return to Austin via the Missouri Kansas & Texas railway this afternoon.

THIRTEEN BODIES TAKEN FROM RUINS MOUNTAIN RESORT

By Associated Press.

Haines Falls, N. Y., July 15.—Thirteen bodies had been reccovered by noon today from the ruins of Twilight Inn, which was burned early yesterday. Two of the bodies were identified. They were: Dr. G. Livingston Bishop, a retired Episcopal clergyman of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Cornelius Erkenberker, whose address was unknown.

Identification of the other twelve bodies and of others which may be taken from the ruins will be almost impossible in the absence of wearing apparel or other marks. Two bodies found in the basement of the hotel today were but charred bits of bone and ashes.

The list of missing remained at approximately eighteen and the hotel management fear that all lost their lives. A score of injured persons still are in the Tannersville Emergency Red Cross Hospital.

WIFE FINANCIER AND SHIPBUILDER DIED SUDDENLY

By Associated Press.

Bath, Maine, July 15.—Mrs. Charles W. Morse, wife of the financier and shipbuilder, died suddenly today at the home of her sister-in-law Miss Jennie P. Morse where she arrived yesterday to join her husband. Death was due to apoplexy. Mrs. Morse was born in Missouri. She was the divorced wife of a Pullman conductor and the second wife of Mr. Morse.

When they were married in 1901 relatives in Boston attempted to force an annulment in court. Perjury by witnesses caused Abraham H. Hummel, noted New York lawyer, who died six months ago in London, to be sent to Blackwell's Island for a year.

W. F. Wheeler of Arlington spent Monday night in Corsicana.

OCTOGENARIAN DIES; FAMILY IS ALL LONG-LIVED

By Associated Press.

Sherman, Texas, July 15.—R. M. Cannon, aged 91, pioneer of Grayson county and a big land owner, died this morning at 7 o'clock at his home in Van Alstyne near here after a few weeks of illness. He was a member of a large family of octogenarians. He is survived by two brothers, John R., aged 97, and Oscar M., aged 88, both of Van Alstyne, and one sister, Mrs. Eliza West, aged 84, of Denver, Colo. A brother, William R., died in 1923 at the age of 92 years. This longevity of life of the Cannon family is considered a record unequalled in Texas.

CHARLES W. MORSE MUST PLEAD TO AN INDICTMENT RETURNED FIVE YEARS AGO

By Associated Press.

New York, July 15.—Charles W. Morse, aged financier, must plead to an indictment returned almost five years ago charging him and others with using the mails to defraud in the sale of steamship company stock. When the case was called today Federal Judge Holmes directed that Morse present himself for pleading a week from today, although defense counsel argued that his client is a "helpless invalid under persecution."

Decision to call Morse was reached after protracted arguments during which Fletcher Dobyns, special assistant attorney general of California, demanded the forfeiture of $200,000 bail posted by Morse in 1922.

Counsel for Morse said that his client was more than 70 years old, had suffered two strokes of paralysis, could not walk without assistance has small powers of comprehension, can speak only with difficulty, and is "virtually gone." He said Morse was now in Bath, Maine.

Attorneys for the government replied that representatives of the government sent to see Morse had been rfused entrance to his home and a doctor sent to examine him reported that such symptoms as he had of paralysis, were of the sort that could be simulated.

They recalled that Morse was released from Atlanta penitentiary during President Taft's administration because of illness. Morse, they said, "agreed to die in six months, but failed to live up to his end of the contract."

Real Service

—that which is inspired by more than a perfunctory interest—can never be measured in dollars and cents.

All of the facilities of modern banking are embodied in our service—of course. But of far greater importance is that intangible something which, for lack of a better word, we call "sentiment."

Sentiment cannot be recorded in the asset column—but its absence would indeed be a great liability.

It forges business relations with links of steel—and it promotes that good-will which is ever the result of clearer understanding.

LONDON

Americans Participate in and Patronize Theatrical Garden Party.

PARIS

Premier Painleve Fails to Recognize National Anthem at Recent Banquet

BERLIN

Anniversary of President Von Hindenburg Wounded in Battle.

London, July 10.— "Blondes Prefer Gentlemen," a skit based on Anita Loos' novel, and "Grand Giggle" fashioned after a performance of the Grand Guignol in Paris, were two of the most amusing features of the annual theatrical garden party given in Chelsea for the benefit of the Actors' Orphan Fund.

Americans were numerous, both actors and visitors, Adele and Fred Astire, Tallulah Bankhead, Dorothy Dickson, Joseph Coyne, Peggy O'Neill, June Cowl, Vivienne Osborne, Ethel Levey, Glen Anders, Ruth Draper and many other American favorites ran booths and assisted in entertaining the great crowd.

Many Americans on Stage.

The American contingent in the London stage seems to increase with the oncoming of summer. Dixie Music is now well to the fore in London. Edna Thomas and her accompanist Constance Piper, have returned from Germany and France and are giving a second series of concerts in which negro spirituals and plantation songs make up most of the program. The Emory University Glee Club of Atlanta, Ga., is also singing Southern melodies in London.

Men Only Notice Change.

"Women notice when other women always wear the same hat and coat but men only notice when other men make a change," Justice Rowlett observed in the King's Bench division where he was hearing a case brought by Mrs. St. Vincent Farrant to recover for clothing which she alleged was stolen from trunks she left stored in a London hotel. This remark of the judge was inspired by testimony of the hotel proprietress that although Mrs. Farrant now claimed her wardrobe was very elaborate, she always wore the same coat and hat while living at the hotel.

Annoyers of Royalty.

Arthur Elmore, the sailor who awoke one morning recently in the Buckingham Palace Gardens, near the King's apartments, was booked at Scotland Yard in a special book kept for suspects who have been held for annoying royalty, the most famous of whom was Boy Jones, who gained a peep at Queen Victoria sitting on the throne.

Jones, son of a tailor, was first caught asleep on a sofa, next to the Queen's bedroom. He explained that he got in by the simple method of climbing a wall and stepping through a French window. He had been in the palace three days, helped himself to eatables, and not only had seen the Queen on the throne but his sleep had been disturbed by the crying of the baby Princess Royal.

After a term in a house of correction, Jones again returned to the palace. The third time the young man was apprehended there the authorities decided to bundle him off to sea, and that was the last London ever saw of him.

Honeymoon Passports.

Honeymoon passports are a good deal of a problem for newly married couples who wish to dash from a London church to a boat train and cross the Channel to France, the day of their wedding. The foreign office will not issue passports for a man and woman as man and wife until they have actually been married. In some cases clergymen have been entrusted by the foreign office with such passports and have not delivered them until the young couple were legally entitled to them.

Jap Prince at Magdalen.

Prince Chichibu of Japan will go into residence at Magdalen College, Oxford, in October, after having passed many months of social activity in Great Britain and on the continent for the purpose of familiarizing himself with English and French.

He will occupy rooms jutting out over Addison's Walk, and overlooking a picturesque backwater of the Cher. These apartments are regarded as the most beautiful in one of Oxford's loveliest colleges. In the seventies these same rooms were occupied by Oscar Wilde.

Magdalen College has succeeded Christ Church as the favorite institution for royal undergraduates. King Edward attended Christ Church, although he did not actually reside in the college, but the present Prince of Wales lived in Magdalen for several terms and popularized it with royalty the world over.

Col. Freyberg to Try Again.

Lieut. Col. Bernard Freyberg, V. C., D. S. O., is among the many swimmers who will shortly attempt to swim the English channel.

Colonel Freyberg made a dramatic year ago close to shore after a seven hour battle with the tide that a tugman almost cried when he was taken from the water 400 yards from shore.

His wife had kept unceasing watch throughout the long swim, and as her husband's eyes had become bloodshot, his body blue with cold, and he failed to hear the directions shouted to him, she insisted he must leave the water.

Colonel Freyberg served at Gallipoli and is scarred with nine war wounds.

F. A. Montgomery and Charles H. Kendrick, both of Waco were in Corsicana Tuesday morning.

Paris, July 10.—Former Premier Painleve, minister of war in the ninth Briand cabinet, had long been known as the most absent-minded politician in France. But his crowning achievement has consisted in forgetting to stand up when the "Marseillaise was played, and in the presence of the president of the republic.

"Who is the low communist up at the speaker's table who refuses to rise when the national anthem is played?" one indignant guest asked of another at a recent banquet.

Mr. Plainleve utterly oblivious to the music and the entry of President Doumergue, was sitting quietly studying the menu.

Only for the fact that Marshal Foch who was beside him nudged him in time, he might have received a hard roll thrown by the indignant guest.

"Generally, Mr. Minister," Foch remarked with a twinkle in his eye, "military music does not make people dream, and the 'Marseillaise,' I have never found to be exactly a lullaby."

M. Painleve blushed.

President Faces Dilema.

President Doumergue is faced by something of a dilemma due to the death sentence passed on a woman nurse, Scierri, for killing several of the invalids whom she was attending—how many was not exactly established at her trial.

The woman was condemned to death by a jury of the Gard Department, from which the president hails.

The court of cessation has rejected the murderess' appeal, and nothing but presidential clemency now stands between her and the guillotine.

The president will examine the case soon and his former constituents are awaiting his decision with impatience.

Some Look Like That Amount.

A pair of silk stockings adorned with a certain amount of embroidery, occupies a whole window in a big Paris store. The price of this work of art is 1,250 francs.

French passers-by note the sum and at once convert it into dollars, as they declare nobody but an American woman could or would pay forty dollars for a pair of stockings.

America Likes Good Music.

Jacques Thibaut, violinist, has returned from his last American tour with a high opinion of American taste in music compared with fifteen years ago. It is no longer possible, he says to offer a program of mediocre works." He, like Massager, tells the French they know nothing of jazz, and that in condemning it, they condemn a thing they have not really heard.

"The reputation of the American as a lover of no music but jazz," he says, "is as false as such generalizations always are. But don't scoff at jazz. We in France don't know what it really is, we judge by inferior specimens.

"The day I arrived in New York, I heard Paul Whiteman's orchestra interpret 'Circus,' a work specially written for him by a great symphonist, Deems Taylor. You cannot imagine what new and exquisite sounds it gave. Its orchestration is admirable. Like everything done with taste and entrusted to great artists, it has its value.

"No, no, jazz is an art for which works that will last can be written."

Americans to Blame.

Americans who come to a French port without the necessary French visa to visit the country have only themselves to blame if police authorities refuse to allow them to land or if they are charged double price for visas, in the opinion of American Consular officials here.

Consul General Skinner declares that French port officials would be within their rights if they refuse such careless Americans the permit to land and made them continue to a British or other port.

In the past few weeks on steamers calling at both Cherbourg and Havre, there have been a certain number of passengers without visas and these have held up the departure of the boat trains for nearly an hour, thus disrupting railroad schedules, delaying the arrival of other passengers considerably in Paris and giving much extra work to French officials.

The port officials have to question these Americans the same as they would have been questioned at a French consulate in the United States. This takes time, as generally the conversations are carried on by means of an interpreter.

Armenians Make Rugs.

Investigation into the origin of a score of exceptionally fine Oriental rugs that suddenly made their appearance at Nice led to the discovery that a group of fifty Armenian refugees had established themselves in the little town of Cogolin (var.) and are turning out rugs that deceive the most careful rug buyers.

The Armenians managed to keep their secret for over a year, until they disposed of their first output, fearing that the dealers would be unwilling to pay top prices for Oriental rugs manufactured in France.

Dealers declare the rugs are even better in quality and color than those which come from Turkey.

"Corsicana Has It."

By Associated Press.

Berlin, July 10.—President Von Hindenberg is receiving congratulations on the sixtieth anniversary of the first and only time he was wounded in battle. His wound, received when he was only nineteen years old, brought him his first decoration of which he now possesses seventy-seven.

As a lieutenant, just graduated from the military academy, young Hindenburg took two weeks' vacation and then wrote his parents, "It is high time that I smell burning powder again." A week later he was fighting in the battle of Koeniggrats in the German-Austrian war of 1866 when a bullet grazed his head. His helmet, which he still has, saved his life.

After recovering consciousness young Hindenburg had his wound dressed and then continued in the battle receiving the Red Eagle medal for bravery.

Election Competition Is Heavy.

With fourteen political parties scrambling to outdo one another in spending money for advertising candidates and municipal elections the city of Welba, Bavaria, has passed an ordinance eliminating some of the competition.

No party will be allowed to spend more than 10,000 marks for advertising in a single election The object of the ordinance was to give weaker parties with small campaign funds an equal chance with the strong.

Want Language Purified.

The directorate of posts and telegraphs at Stettin has started a campaign to purify the German language. The French word "pension," meaning a boardng house or inn, is the first to be chopped off the long list of foreign words which are in the German dictionary but are not to be allowed in the telephone directory.

Authorities have substituted the German word "Fremdenheim," (literally, visitors' home) in the new directory, without notifying the inn keepers. The arbitrary change, it is charged, means the loss of business as even Germans would never think of looking under the "F's" in the directory for a "pension," Furthermore, they say "Fremdenheim" sounds too much like some sort of an asylum.

Student Body Is Angry.

Part of the student body at the University of Munich is up in arms at an order of the board of regents directing that the name of a student killed in the famous Hitler putsch in 1920 be placed on he bronze tablet containing a list of the university world war heroes.

The student council describing the action as a "glorification of treason," in that Hitler's adherents attempted to overhrow the republic, threatens to chisel off the name of the Hitlerite if it appears in the war memorial tablet.

Workers Unite In Song.

"Workers of the world, unite—in song" is the paraphrase Marxian slogan under which there has been organized a workers' singing international wth headquarters in Berlin.

All over Europe workers movements have flourishing singing societies as part of their propaganda work. The new international to unite them all in one organization, the purpose of which is "the reconciliation of peoples through the publication of choruses, folk songs and songs of combat that are filled with the socialist spirit of brotherly love."

Among the countries represented in the Singing International are Germany, Belgium, Great Britain, Austria, Denmark, Holland, Czech-Slovakia, Hungary and Alsace Lorraine.

FIGHTING OCCURS ALONG FRONTIER OF BALKAN COUNTRIES

By Associated Press.

Paris, July 14.—Havas dispatches from Bucharest, Rumania, say incursions of Bulgarian Comitadji (irregulars) on the Dobrudja frontier are continuing. There has been fighting, with dead and wounded on both sides.

Rumania and Bulgaria have each pointed to the other as the aggressor in the present frontier troubles. The Rumanian war ministery last Saturday announced that about 250 armed men had penetrated three miles into Rumanian territory before being choked by Infantry. The casualties were estimated at 26 Bulgarians dead and six Rumanian soldiers wounded, with ten missing and believed to be dead.

A Sofia dispatch the same day said Bulgaria had requested the Rumanian government to investigate an alleged attack upon a Bulgarian outpost by Rumanian soldiers on July 8. It was also proposed that a mixed commission of inquiry be formed.

Geneva advices Monday said the League of Nations had not been officially informed of the disturbances, but that League circles believed a precarious state of affairs existed in the Dobrudja district.

MOUNTAIN RESORT DESTROYED EARLY TODAY BY FLAMES

TWELVE BODIES ARE TAKEN FROM RUINS; TWENTY-THREE MISSING

By Associated Press.

Tannerville, N. Y., July 14.—Twelve bodies had been recovered early this afternoon from the ruins of Twilight Inn, the Catskill Mountain summer resort, which was burned early today The bodies were so badly burned that identification was impossible.

Sixteen guests and seven employes of the hotel have not been accounted for.

The fire was discovered by a night watchman, who, with other employes tried to arouse the guests. It is believed there were about 55 persons asleep in the building. The flames spread so quickly that exit by the stairway was soon cut off, and most of the guests, wearing only their night clothes, were forced to jump from the windows.

The blaze is believed to have originated in or near the kitchen.

Fire fighting apparatus from Raines Falls and Tannersville, responded to the alarm, but by the time the firemen reached Twilight Park the hotel was beyond saving.

An Early Report of Fire.

DEBT SETTLEMENT BETWEEN FRANCE AND BRITAIN ANNOUNCED

By Associated Press.

London, July 13.—The settlement signed in London yesterday by Finance Minister Caillaux covers not only the French war debt but virtually the outstanding accounts between Great Britain and France. Announcement to this effect was made in the House of Commons today by Chancellor of the Exchequer Winston Churchill.

The French payments, he said, would be 4,000,000 pounds, 6,000,000 pounds, 8,000,000 pounds and 10,000,000 pounds, rising to $12,500,000 pounds annually, the last named figure being reached in 1930.

From 1930 to 1956, the payments would be 12,500,000 pounds annually, rising to 14,000,000 pounds for the final 31 years.

There is no safeguarding clause in the agreement itself, but letters have been exchanged between the two governments, making it clear that, in event of a complete failure or very serious situation in German payments, France will be entitled to ask for reconsideration of the arrangement.

The men, who were condemned yesterday, included six members of the Turkish Parliament and two former deputies. Among the deputies was Ruchdi Pasha, who had requested to be hanged rather than submit to a sentence or hard labor for life.

The plotters were convicted of laying plans to kill the President upon his arrival here a month ago. The tribunal of independence condemned fifteen to death but two are not in custody.

DELEGATION GOES BEFORE COMMISSION INTEREST HIGHWAY

NAVARRO COUNTY CITIZENS WANT ROAD THROUGH TRINITY BOTTOM FIXED

Tom Lovett, J. T. Newson and Charlie King of Cosicana and B. F. Newsom, Tom Stockton, D. Ray, Tom McCluney, Luther Lively, and A. L. Forehand of Kerens appeared before the State Highway Commission Monday in the interest of a permanent all weather roadway in the Trinity river bottoms over highway No. 31. The commission voted to fix this road over a stretch of seven-eighths of a mile, the kind of work to be done to be determined by the Highway engineer. It is probable that a concrete roadway will be built, however, the commission may build a roadway with a rock base with concrete culverts in the low places. Mr. Newsom said today. Mr. Newsom also stated that there was a good road on the east side of the stretch that will be built and that the road this side has a fairly good shape. The state pays for the work, it was said.

In discussing this Mr. Newsom said that he hoped this was the beginning of a system of highways in this county and that when they were built across the county the one across Trinity would already be in shape for travel.

Tom Lovett arranged for the conference and Mr. Newsom was the speaker for the delegation before the commission.

On your birthday send your mother flowers.

Sensational Cut in Tire Prices

We have received our new lower prices announced, hastily, in Friday's paper and the decline is even greater than the first, meager, reports indicated.

Price levels of 1924 have been restored and figured in percentages the new prices are twenty-five per cent below the peak prices of last year.

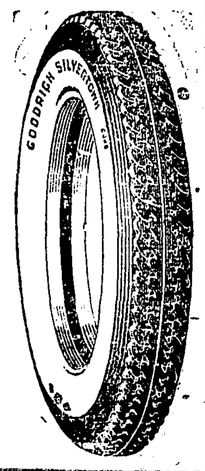

There should be no hesitancy now on the part of the buying public needing tires or tubes with these lower tire and tube prices. At the same time we also want to announce that the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company is now building better rubber products than at any time before.

With lower prices and better tires, we offer you a double advantage if you need tires or tubes.

CHAMBER COMMERCE FOREIGN COUNTRIES OF HIGH STANDING

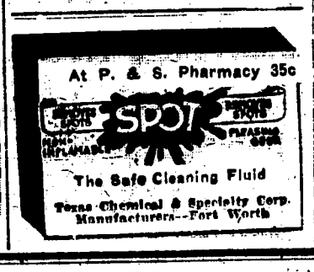

American business interests in most of the principal foreign countries are being served by Chambers of Commerce of their own organization in those countries, it is indicated in correspondence received at the local Chamber.

Recent correspondence with London; Havana, Cuba, Rio de Janerio, Brazil; Montreal, Canada, and other foreign countries indicate that the American Chambers in these countries are carrying on vigorous work similar to that of metropolitan Chambers in the United States. The major activities of these American Chambers in foreign lands of course, relate primarily to exporting and other commercial relations. One of the interesting things brought out in the foreign correspondence is the fact that in France, Chambers of Commerce have virtually the official standing of government bureaus. In Canada the Interior Department of Ottawa carries on many of the functions which state and local Chambers of Commerce in the United States carry on.

Charles Stewart, the present minister, is waging an active campaign to attract American tourists to Canada and the government is printing attractive pamphlets and literature and distributing this through local Chambers of Commerce in the United States. This campaign is apparently bearing results for an increase of twenty-eight per cent of motor traffic across the Canadian border from the States is reported, or a total during 1925 of 2,328,004 automobiles.

STREET NAMES OF NEW ORLEANS TELL HISTORY OF PAST

By Associaed Press.

New Orleans, July 14.—Names of New Orleans streets present a mixture of French, Spanish and American influences of other days and impress strangers instantly as one of the oddest of the interesting features of the old city.

The city itself was not named as many think for the French city of Orleans but for the Duke of Orleans Chartres street bears the name of his son, the Duc de Chartres. Royal street is said to have been named for Madame Royale, eldest sister of the king.

Muses Represented.

Bourbon bears the dynastic name and the Dauphine is remembered through Dauphine street. The royal family did not lack attention as witness Conti, Toulouse, Dumaine and Comle.

A group of streets is named for the muses, Calliope, Clio, Erato, Thalia, Melpomene, Terpsichore, Euterpe, Polymnia and Urania.

The Napoleonic influence left Napoleon Avenue, Josephine street and a street for each of Napoleon's victories, Austerlitz, Jena, Cadiz, Constantinople and Berlin. Berlin passed during the World War in favor of General Pershing street.

Few Indian Names.

Few of the Indian names are left although one busy thoroughfare is still Tchoupitoulas. Americans are represented by Washington, Franklin, Adams, Jefferson, Monroe, Madison, Gallatin, Henry Clay, Webster, Calhoun, General Taylor, Scott and Claiborne streets. Jackson Square and Jackson Avenue honor the hero of New Orleans.

Spanish governors also left their names on streets, Galvez, Miro, Calvo, Salcedo, Carondelet and his wife, Baronne.

Names inspired by religion include St. Peter, St. Claude, Annunciation, St. Andrew, St. Mary, St. Maurice, St. Joseph and St. Anne.

When plantations were made into city streets the names of children of old families were given, leaving today Octavia, Arabella Joseph, Eleonore, Celeste, Robert, Adele and Amelia streets.

Ice Cream Supper

There will be a cream supper at Post Oak Church Thursday night, July 22nd. For the benefit of the cemetery. All candidates and the general public is invited.

FIRST BALE FOR JIM WELLS GROWN ON HALBERT FARM

Alice, Texas, July 12.—The first bale of Jim Wells county's bumper crop was brought in Saturday by J. E. Bonnett. The bale weighed 611 pounds, graded "middling" one and one-sixteenth staple, and was grown by Bennett on the J. L. Halbert farm, about seven miles south of Alice. A premium of $125, contributed to by business men, was paid Bennett. The bale will be auctioned.

There was considerable rivalry among the farmers for first bale honors and Bennett, using a crew of 32 Mexican pickers, gathered his bale in less than two hours. Bennett also carried off first honors in 1925. He has 700 acres in cotton and expects to gather not less than 1000 bales.

Estimates of Jim Wells county's '26 cotton crop range from 25,000 to 40,000 bales, as compared with approximately 9000 bales in 1925. With hot dry weather prevailing, cotton will open fast, and all gins in this territory will probably be running at full capacity within two weeks.

The above item was taken from the Houston Post-Dispatch. Mr. Halbert has heavy farm holdings in the Alice district.

Wells, secretary of the Wills Point Chamber of Commerce.

An effort was made Saturday morning to make a tour of the county, but was prevented by rain. Miss Leola Cox, home demonstration agent, reports 392 members of the clubs in the county. They are planning exhibits for the Free State Fair, the State Fair and the East Texas Fair at Tyler.

ARGUING WITH GOD

Comment on the Uniform International Sunday School Lesson for July 18, 1926.
Read Exodus 3.

WM. SOUTHERN, JR.

THE CALL OF MOSES.
Scripture Lesson—Exodus 2. 11 to 4.18.

Exodus 3. 10-15.

10 Come now therefore and I will send thee unto Pharaoh, that thou mayest bring forth my people the children of Israel out of Egypt.

11 And Moses said unto God, Who am I, that I should go unto Pharaoh, and that I should bring forth the children of Israel out of Egypt?

12 And he said, Certainly I will be with thee; and this shall be a token unto thee, that I have sent thee: When thou hast brought forth the people out of Egypt, ye shall serve God upon this mountain.

13 And Moses said unto God, Behold, when I come unto the children of Israel, and shall say unto them, The God of year fathers hath sent me unto you; and they shall say to me, What is his name? What shall I say unto them?

14 And God said unto Moses, I AM THAT I AM: and he said, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Israel, I AM hath sent me unto you.

15 And God said moreover unto Moses, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Israel The Lord God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob, hath sent me unto you; this is my name for ever, and this is my memorial unto all generations.

Exodus 4. 10-12.

10 And Moses said unto the Lord, O my Lord, I am not eloquent, neither heretofore, nor since thou hast spoken unto thy servant: but I am slow to speech and a slow tongue.

11 And the Lord said unto him, who hath made man's mouth? or who maketh the dumb, or deaf, or the seeing, or the blind? have not I the Lord?

12 Now therefore go, and I will be with thy mouth, and teach thee what thou shalt say.

Golden Text.—Certainly I will be with thee.—Exodus 3. 12.

One characteristic usually accredited to Missourians is that they have to be shown. A great deal of sport has been poked at us and when I am away from home and announce that I am from Missouri, invariably somebody says, "You have to be shown." I do not know where the catch phrase originated. A great many writers have protested and objected and become indignant, but I am rather proud of the reputation Missouri has in this line. It means that we do not take for granted everything we hear and that it would be useless to try to sell a Missourian the Washington monument without an abstract of title.

Somtimes we carry our reluctance to be convinced too far. It is alright to demand and insist on being shown but there are some who never can be shown, who never change their minds and who refuse to be convinced. I am not talking to this class. I am talking to the men and women who desire to do what God wants them to do, to live as He would like for them to live, but who insist on knowing whether or not God is really demanding or desiring certain action on their part. I have little respect for the mind which accepts every plausible presentation, religious or otherwise, as true and plunges ahead without thought, plan or specifications. We make many of our religious mistakes in just this way.

Moses argued with God. He put forth every argument he knew. He said he was not the man for the job and when pressed said he could not make a speech and that he was afraid his own people would turn on him. But when Moses finally decided and started in on the work, he never let go until the work was finished. He argued the matter out at the beginning, accepted the appointment and then stood up to it through thick and thin for forty years.

I read the story of Moses this way. When he was forty years old he was a nobleman at the court of Pharoah in Egypt. He had a college education and he had riches and power. He had not only studied books and been admitted to the mysteries of the priesthood, but he had studied the condition of the Hebrews, six hundred thousand of them, his own people. They were slaves, oppressed and abused. Moses wanted to do something about it. He was young and enthusiastic. He did not doubt his power and ability. If God had asked him to lead them out of bondage then, in the inexperience of youth he would have declared himself thoroughly competent. He even tried to get results by direct action and killed an Egyptian.

Then Moses had to run for his life. He knew that he had some relatives somewhere in the mountains of Midian and, as most of us do, hunted up his kin-folk. He found Jethro, a great chief, a descendant of Abraham by his marriage to Keturah. He settled down in Midian, married Jethro's daughter and began the second term of his education.

Taking care of sheep in the desert and on the mountain-side Moses had plenty of time to think. Lying beneath the stars at night he reviewed in his mind his life in Egypt. He recalled his knowledge of the Hebrew people. He followed in memory the story of Abraham and then the line of his own lineage. I do not doubt that his mother Jochabed had told Moses all of the Hebrew history and the Hebrew legends and the promises of God to his people.

In the long days and nights in Midian he thought it all through. He hoped some great man would come miraculously and rescue the nation. He wanted to do something about it. Then he gradually began to have a plan. God talked to him and he talked with God. As the time grew near, when Moses had been forty years in Midian, the call from God became clearer. He began to understand that he himself was the man, that a great duty faced him.

Then Moses argued with God. He was doing just what we all should do when facing any great and important undertaking. He was thinking it through. He knew he would have to be the mouthpiece of the nation if he succeeded in this work and he was a poor speaker. Did Moses learn how to pray on the mountain alone with his problem? He did. Moses was forty years working out his problem, Jesus spent forty days in the desert before beginning His great work.

Did you ever argue with God? When the church committee came around for your contribution to help the church did you argue that you needed the money, that you could only spare a small amount and your arguments sounded quite reasonable. Did you argue with God when your son or your daughter wanted to go as a missionary, when that boy you wanted to succeed in business, wanted to be a preacher? You did and you talked him out of it.

Moses argued with God. He advanced every argument he could think of. Bu tMoses came through. When the whole thing was thought out he went to his father-in-law and resigned his job. He told his family good-bye and went back to Egypt.

It is a hard thing to know when God is calling you to do great work. It is hard to decide what you should do when faced with important decisions. We may make mistakes. I have known many men preaching who should have been in business and I have known business men who should have been preachers.

The man who is really worthwhile and who can do the work is the one who is modest about it.

The man who fights it out, who makes up his mind and answers his call and then puts the job through is the real worth while fellow.

Moses was one of the greatest characters whose story illumines the pages of history. His like appears only once in thousands of years. It is, I think, worth while for us all to study the character of Moses, the things which made him great and the things which he accomplished.

It was a man sized job Moses undertook. He pitted his strength, his wits and his life against the greatest men of the age and he won out.

He won out because he was doing God's work, because God was with him in every move and because he believed in God.—The Republic Syndicate.

GREAT DRILLING CAMPAIGN EXPECTED ALONG WEST FAULT

MUCH LEASING AND ROYALTY TRADING IS NOW UNDER WAY IN THAT AREA

With the bringing in of the Transcontinental Oil and Gas Company's big gusher on the Rosson tract in the Nigger Creek area southwest of Mexia there has come a renewed interest in leases, royalties and operations along the entire western side of the old Balconnes Fault area and it is expected by experienced oil operators that within the next few months there will begin a tremendous drilling campaign all the way from the Nigger Creek area on the south to Corsicana on the north to the west of the present pools that have been producing for several years in the East Central Texas district.

While the Nigger Creek area has come in for the heavy play at big prices, practically every acre of land along the west side of the Fault from that district to and beyond Corsicana has been placed under lease and royalties are also changing hands at fair figures. The larger companies that did not have acreage in the Nigger Creek area, according to statements by local representatives, are not paying the high prices demanded for close-up acreage to the Rosson No. 1 well that has started the latest rush, preferring to await further developments, but are contenting themselves with securing acreage further up the fault line to the west.

Local oil operators of long experience state that the discovery of the heavy Trancontinental producer is contrary to the generally accepted ideas of geology and that the geeologists are somewhat at sea as a result of the discovery well in the Nigger Creek section. It was a commonly accepted idea, they state, that there was little chance for the accumulation of oil in large quantities west of the fault for the reason that the break of fault was supposed to have cut off the seepage of oil on the west side.

These same experienced operators state that there is little doubt that an extensive drilling campaign will be launched that will cover the entire west side of the fault from Groesbeck section to and probably beyond Corsicana as practically all this area has been leased again, many old leases that had been taken in years past having expired for the reason that lease owners had decided they were worthless from a producing standpoint and had permitted the rentals to lapse.

Already one operation has made a location on the western side of the fault near Corsicana. Several local men have banded together for a test three or four miles southwest of Corsicana and if oil or gas is not found in paying quantities at a lesser depth the well is expected to be drilled below the 3000 foot depth. This is the first of an extensive drilling campaign over some thirty-five miles of territory lying between the Nigger Creek discovery well and the Corsicana field and Corsicana is confidently expecting to again be in the midst of boom oil days again within the next few months at latest.

ERECTION WOMEN'S CLUB HOUSE TO BE SPONSORED HERE

The Business and Professional Women's Club met in business session Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the Chamber of Commerce. Full reports from the delegates to the State convention of the Business and Professional Women, held at Fort Worth on July 9 and 16, were heard. Those from the Corsicana club attending this convention were Misses Sarah Holman, president; Jennie Lee Beal, vice president; Lucile Bonner, corresponding secretary; Anna Bell Cavender and Mrs. Tessie Dickeson. All report a fine time and are very enthusiastic over the work being done in the different clubs including the Corsicana club. The state convention of the clubs will be held in San Antonio next year and it is hoped by the Corsicana club and they are working hard toward that end, that the convention will be held in Corsicana in 1928.

The club is taking up for its immediate future work the raising of funds for the erection of a new Woman's Club House. They have a number of ideas and suggestions for raising funds, and will put them in action immediately. The woman's club house, when completed, will be an addition to Corsicana that is much needed, and will be worth while to every citizen of the county, as well as the different clubs. In the fall of this year the club is planning to put on a play, the proceeds of which will go to the woman's club house fund.

Two new members were elected and the applications of two others were read and will be acted upon at the next meeting.

The club will meet at the home of Miss Jennie Lee Beal on West Fifth Avenue next Tuesday evening at 7:30 for a short business meeting, after which they will attend in a body the play, "Southern Cinderella," being sponsored by Mrs. J. K. Blackshear's Sunday school class of the First Methodist church.

NIGGER CREEK IS BELIEVED BE ONLY STARTING OF BOOM

The days of 1920 and 1921 may be duplicated in oil circles in this area with the opening of the Nigger Creek pool west of Mexia, as it was done when the new Mexia field opened that started unheard of oil discovery in the East Central Texas district.

Since the original Mexia field opened, Powell, Richland, Currie and Wortham fields have been developed and have kept up a steady production of oil over a period of several years, and set unprecedented production records in oil development.

Nigger Creek is hog wild, and the scenes of early oil field development are being re-enacted. High price leasing and royalty trading is noticeable in oil properties in the new district, and oil fans feel that the scene of operations will extend northeasterly parallel with the older group of fields in much the same way development has followed from Mexia to Powell, and southwesterly to connect to Luling field.

There have been a few tests drilled in Navarro county westerly from Currie, but it is now thought these have not gone far enough in that direction to touch production in the Woodbine sands. The dope has been all upset. Geology heretofore has been that west of the Balconnes fault line no oil was to be found for a considerable distance. They are now guessing, and the view is generally held that much more oil is to be produced by operating on this theory.

A location has been made for a 2,000 foot well to be put down at Oak Valley, and this is in linewith the new play. A deep well is being drilled near Tupelo by J. O. Osborne, and it is likely to be in the new play, as the general direction is being carried out. The log of this well, which is now down about 2,500 feet, is checking nicely with the geology that is now looked upon as most favorable.

Corsicana oil men are closely in touch anything with respects to bringing the long line of production in this direction. Big companies are specially interested in the newly discovered area, and their scouts and geologists are busy checking over their data, and the ground all along the line.

Markets

Cotton Opens at Decline.

By Associated Press.

New York, July 15.—The cotton market opened easy at a decline of 11 to 16 points, active months showing net losses of fifteen to 19 points in the first few minutes of trading under liquidation or reselling by recent buyers who appeared to be influenced by talk of better weather prospects and relatively easy Liverpool cables.

The decline to 17.14 for October and 17.18 for January brought in considerable covering, however, and also initial offerings had been absorbed, prices rallied on reiterated reports of insect damage and complaints that cotton was growing a good stalk but putting on very little fruit.

October sold up to 17.30 or 1 point net higher. January also rallied to 17.30 or within 5 points of yesterday's closing quotation, the general list ruling steady to firm at the end of the first hour.

After the early rally to 17.33 for October and 17.34 for January, the market eased slightly under renewed liquidation which was probably promoted by the favorable weather outlook. Selling was not active, however, and the market was quiet at mid-day, with October ruling around 17.29 and January 17.30, or net unchanged to five points lower.

Complaints of continued low temperatures in the belt seemed to attract increasing attention and the early afternoon market was firm on covering and Wall Street buying. October sold up to 17.40 and January to 17.42 or seven to eleven points net higher, and prices were within four or five points or the best at two o'clock.

New Orleans Opens Quiet.

By Associated Press.

New Orleans, July 15.—The cotton market opened quiet but easy notwithstanding that Liverpool was better than due. The easy tone was attributed to favorable weather in the belt. First trades showed losses of six to nine points and the market soon eased off further, October trading to 16.91 and December to 16.84 or 9 to 10 points below yesterday's close. There was not much pressure to sell, however, and the market soon rallied to 17.08 for October and 17.00 for December. Continued reports of damage by insects are supporting the market.

The market ruled steady after the first hour and prices advanced, making new highs on all active months with October at 17.10. December 17.01 and January 17.00. The firmer tone was due to continued reports of serious insect damage and the lowering of crop areas.

The market was steady near midsession with prices only 1 to 3 points under the highs.

Wheat Prices Break.

By Associated Press.

Chicago, July 15.—Wheat took a sharp early swing downward here today, influenced a good deal by unexpected set backs in quotations at Liverpool and by unofficial Canadian crop estimates greatly in excess of the official forecast. Opening 3-4 to 1 3-4c off, the Chicago wheat market rallied somewhat, but quickly went lower again.

Corn, oats and provisions were easy, corn starting at 1-4c to 5-8c decline, and later showing a slight further set back.

Heavy Buying Orders on Market.

By Associated Press.

New York, July 15.—Buying orders predominated at the opening of today's stock market although prices failed to move uniformly upward. Copper, low priced oil and most of the motor shares were in demand. General Motors, however encountered further profit taking, receding nearly 2 points at the outset.

Technical considerations continued to sway price movements in the early dealing without any particular regard for the favorable news from trade centers. The market gradually developed a stronger tone, however, as the two industrial leaders, U. S. Steel and General Motors, began to respond to a fresh influx of buying orders. There was less evidence of the strategic bidding up of one set of stock in order to cover selling accounts elsewhere. Pool operations were carried out successfully in numerous specialties such as International Harvester, Savage Arms, and American Safety Razor and Case Threshing Machine, while rails resumed their advance under leadership of Lehigh Valley, Atlantic Coast Line and Missouri Pacific preferred.

French, Belgian and Italian exchanges opened lower but demand sterling held firm.

SEARCH BEING MADE FOR BALLOON; FATE NOT BEEN LEARNED

DETROITER HAS NOT BEEN HEARD FROM SINCE START OF RACE TUESDAY

By Associated Press.

Chicago, July 15.—Alarmed at lack of news from the balloon Detroiter, one of four which left here Tuesday night in the Elks National Race, officials of the National Aeronautical Association today asked the Federal Weather Bureau to increase search in Northern Tennessee for the missing balloon.

The other balloons have landed, and one of them, the Hi-Ball, which landed south of Portland, Ark., early today, is believed to have set a new national record for balloons of 35,000 cubic capacity at 625 miles.

The Detroiter has not been heard of since the take-off. Officials feared the bag may have drifted eastward in an upper current and encountered storms in the Appalachians.

In Memoriam.

On the evening of May 17, God gently came into our midst and at 10:10 o'clock as He took His departure, He saddened our community by taking with Him the spirit of Annie Weeks, wife of W. J. Weeks.

Deceased was born in Grimes county, March 18, 1852. She married W. J. Weeks Nov. 6, 1872.

To them were born seven children, five of them living.

Deceased leaves a husband, W. J. Weeks, Corbet, Texas, three daughters, Mrs. Marion Bayless, Corsicana; Mrs. J. M. DuBose, Corbet, Texas; Mrs. Burnye Moore Purdon, Texas; two sons, L. F. Weeks, Chicago; A. L. Weeks, Corbet; one sister, Mrs. Lou Campbell, Corsicana; and one brother, Lewis Marshall, Corsicana, to mourn her death.

Deceased was well known in Corsicana and Navarro county, having lived in this county since she was eight years of age. She saw Corsicana grow from a village of three stores to its present size.

She was the daughter of Joseph Marshall and Elvina Marshall, old pioneers of Texas. Her mother, Mrs. Elvina Marshall lived to be 95 years of age. She saw much progress and had a most remarkable experience. She lived under six flags. Mrs. Marshall first lived under the flag of Northwestern Territory; second, under the flag of the State of Illinois; third, under the flag of the Mexican State of Texas; fourth, under the flag of the Republic of Texas; fifth, under the State of Texas from 1845 to 1861; sixth, under the flag of the State of Texas in the Southern Confederacy; seventh, back in the United States in the ever bright and brilliant Lone Star State of Texas, where for nearly half a century under the benign protection of a peaceful, prosperous government she with her loved ones, lived wielding an influence for good.

Now the daughter of this noble woman has passed away, leaving the same influence for good, inspiring her children and grand children to become law-abiding citizens, standing for the higher life and development of our country.

As the message spread telling of her death a gloom fell over our community. The words carried with them a great sense of sorrow and loss to her many friends. And while the whole community will miss her and mourn her passing, the place where she will be missed with a keener sense of loss and with greater knowledge of her real worth and splendid character will be in her home, where she has spread sunshine for many years. No woman possessed a nobler or more gentle nature. Around the fireside in her home is a vacant chair; in the evening as the twilight shadows gather, loved ones listen in vain for the footsteps and the voice they loved so well.

Sorrow, deep and poignant, fills their hearts in this hour of bereavement. They know that no sacrificice was too great, no suffering too intense, no grief too poignant for mother to endure for the sake of her loved ones.

She united with the Christian church forty years ago. She lived always faithful to her God and Savior.

She was a devoted wife and mother, the kind of mother—
In whom reposed humanity's greatest love,
In whom rests the hope of mankind,
In whom lies the destiny of nations,
By whom the cross is upheld and Christianity magnified,
By whom God is revered and His Son glorified.

May the bereaved loved ones find comfort in the promises of Him who knows and who shares our every grief and sorrow. From out the gloom and shadows may their hearts be lifted to Him who doeth all things well.

Funeral services for deceased took place at her home, Tuesday, May 18, 1926, at 2 p. m. Conducted by Rev. Oscar Hellum, pastor from Dawson. He was assisted by the pastor of the Christian church, also pastor of the First Christian church of Corsicana, and pastor of the Baptist church at Corbet, where she attended Sunday School.

Authorities along the border towns have been instructed to watch for him upon the theory that he may have returned to the United States without informing his friends. Bloodhounds were used in the search a few days ago without avail.

MEXICAN POLITICAL CIRCLES DISTURBED OVER RESIGNATION

By Associated Press.

Mexico City, July 15.—There has been much dissention in political circles over the resignation of Dr. Roderigo Octavio, Brazilian neutral judge of the Mexican-American Claims Commission. The newspapers suggest that because of Dr. Octavio's adverse decision in the Santa Isabel case, the United States exerted diplomatic pressure on Brazil to cause his resignation.

El Universal declares Dr. Octavio's decision in the Santa Isabel case was fair and supported by the highest moral and legal facts.

Therefore the papers say, Mexico must and will resist all efforts of the United States to cause reversal of that decision.

JURISDICTIONAL CONTROVERSY OVER PROPOSED ABANDONMENT RAILWAY LINE YET UNSETTLED

By Associated Press.

Washington, July 15.—The long jurisdictional controversy for proposed abandonment by the Texas and Pacific Railway of the Midland and Northwestern, a 65 mile line from Midland to Seminole, Texas, was handed back again today to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The commission has held on several occasions that it had no jurisdiction and the proposed abandonment and salvaging of the material was not an abandonment within the meaning of the transportation act. In a motion filed today the Texas and Pacific asked that "Further findings and conclusions be stated in support and explanation of the decision.

It asked a specific finding whether the Midland, which discontinued operations July 17, 1920, had ceased to be "a line of railroad" when acquired by receivers of the Texas and Pacific June 15, 1923, under court order. The state of Texas, the Texas Railroad Commission and others, have contended that at no time during its operation did the Midland constitute a line in interstate commerce, but the applicant claims the commission had jurisdiction at the time operations were suspended and that such jurisdiction has not been lost.

COURT ACTION STARTS TO CLOSE PHILADELPHIA SHOW; THREE EMPLOYEES ARRESTED

By Associated Press.

Philadelphia, July 15.—Three employes were under arrest today and "higher ups" were threatened with arrest in a campaign to close the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition on Sundays.

Miss Janice E. Eichholtz, employed as a guide at a concession, and two men ticket sellers, were taken into custody last night. Warrants obtained by the Methodist Mens Committee were issued for twelve employes, but only three could be located. The warrants charged misdemeanors.

Lawrence C. Hickman, counsel for the committee, said the heads of concessions would be arrested next Sunday and that "from now on the Sunday arrests will go higher up."

Hearing on an application for an injunction restraining the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition from opening on the Sabbath was set for next Monday. The application filed yesterday by the Methodist Men's Committee alleges violation of the laws of 1794 and also of April, 1925, when the legislature appropriated $750,000 for the state's proportion in the exposition, with the stipulation that the Sunday closing laws would be observed.

KANSAS CITY STAR WILL REMAIN IN HANDS KIRKWOOD AND ASSOCIATES IN WORK

By Associated Press.

Kansas City, July 13.—The Kansas City Star will remain in the hands of Irwin Kirkwood, present editor, and his associates.

Sale of the Star and its morning edition, the Times, for $11,000,000 to Mr. Kirkwood and associates was announced last night by the trustees of the estate of William Rockhill Nelson, founder of the newspaper.

Eight bids were considered by the trustees. Terms of the offers made by the unsuccessful bidders were not made public, several of the prospective purchasers having stipulated that secrecy be maintained with respect to their proposals.

Mr. Kirkwood is the son-in-law of Colonel Nelson, and the group he heads had worked for years with Mr. Nelson.

Proceeds of the sale will go into a trust fund, established by the Nelson will, for the purchase of a collection of art works, and reproductions of the fine arts to be maintained in Kansas City, where the Nelson fortune was made. Other properties of the estate bring the total assets of the trust fund of around $20,000,000.

The successful bid provided for the deposit of $500,000 with the offer, $2,000,000 on transfer of the properties, and $8,500,000 at 5 per cent interest, payable not less than $675,000 per year in quarterly payments.

The purchasers agree to assume all liabilities, including pending suits for libel.

The real estate occupied by the Star building was included in the sale.

TRANSCONTINENTAL WELL NIGGER CREEK HOLDING UP FLOW

Mexia, Texas, July 15.—The Transcontinental Rosson, discovery well in the new field, made 2,893 barrels the last twenty-four hours ending Tuesday afternoon. The temperature of the oil is around 99 and 100 degrees, according to the reports learned Tuesday afternoon.

Nigger Creek, Texas, is springing up near the Ross. It is on the highway. A new store has already been put up, with material on the site for others. Road work to the field is being pushed. Machine shops are being erected and water lines are being laid.

RIO BRAVO GETS ANOTHER BIG WELL SPINDLETOP AREA

Houston, Texas, July 15.—The Rio Bravo Oil Company has completed its No. 1 on the right of way of the Southern Pacific Railroad at Spindletop, flowing 3,000 barrels pipe line oil from a depth of 2,800 feet. At Orange the Gulf Production Company brought in No. 1 Hagenmoore at 3,600 feet, flowing 500 barrels.

PREDICT HEAVY EXPENDITURE FOR LEASES NEW SECTOR

Dallas, Texas, July 15.—Expenditure of $2,000,000 within the next sixty days for leases and royalties in the new Nigger Creek oil district opened by the Transcontinental Oil Company's 2,700-barrel Rosson No. 1, about five miles southwest of Mexia, was predicted by Dallas oil men Tuesday. The district is expected to be the scene of booming activity during the next few months, and may mean the opening of a major field, it was reported. The well was dug upon the advice of Dallas geologists.

The development is expected to take place in a northeast and southwest line from the fault discovered, and paralleling the development along the old Mexia fault. Activity may extend as far as twenty-five miles on each side of the discovery, in the northeast-southwest line, and is expected to mean new fields near Wortham, Currie, Richland, Navarro, Corsicana, Powell, Bazette and Reagan.

Leases are selling already for $25 an acre at Currie, fifteen miles from the Rosson well, and intensive development for six or seven miles on each side of the well along the line is now under way. Forty new drilling locations have been made offsetting the new well in all directions, and a number of new derricks have been completed and installation of machinery has been started, it was reported.

The theory that there was a fault west of the Mexia fault was advanced several years ago, but the seemingly greater geological likelihood of striking oil east of the Mexia fault caused the drilling of a number of wells here. The dry holes found caused abandonment of the eastern field, while one duster, Ross No. 1, said to have been improperly completed, stopped possible development west of Mexia.

Working upon the theory that a fault in the opposite direction to that expected would be found, Leon J. Pepperberg, consulting geologist of Dallas, interested Heath M. Robinson, who furnished the structure. Later William E. Wrather of Dallas became interested and through him the Transcontinental Oil Company drilled the Rosson No. 1. The well is now making 2,700 barrels. About 1,500 acres leased by George Gay, company leaser, when the Transcontinental company became interested, are expected to be the scene of much activity within the next month.

BLIND QUEST FOR REVENGE CAUSED SLAYING OF THREE INNOCENT PEOPLE CHICAGO

By Associated Press.

Chicago, July 14.—The blind quest for revenge by an immigrant of a year ago who had lost a thumb in a machine lathe was revealed today as the direct cause of a recent triple slaying in Cicero.

Three persons shot to death in the west side suburb early Monday were innocent victims of his search for retribution, by the confession of James Crucius, alias Granite, who was captured last night.

Crucius was arrested within a few blocks of the scene of the killings when he returned in search of a fourth intended victim.

The 21-year-old immigrant had marked the life of Sol Schwartz, son of the owner of the American Flange and Manufacturing Company. Young Schwartz, he said, made him work at a defective lathe which four weeks ago severed the thumb from his left hand.

Shortly afterward Crucius said he was discharged and was unable to obtain employment because of his maimed hand. He plotted to kill Schwartz. Foreseeing that he would need money for his defense, he settled on robbery to obtain funds.

He obtained an automatic pistol and last week in a west side "flophouse" met Tommy McWaine, aged 20, just in from Muskegon, Mich., and who was destitute.

They loitered together for a time and agreed to become partners in robbery.

First they robbed an insurance agent, next a woman and her escort, and then on Sunday night, Crucius said, they set out on another foray. They halted a taxicab, overpowered the chauffeur, took his uniform and trussed him with tire irons.

Proceeding a block, they stopped to rob Marie Blang, aged 23, and Frederick Hein, her escort, who had just driven to Miss Blang's home from church. Hein made a gesture of protest and a fusillade of shots killed both. Then Ludwig Rose, the chauffuer, attempted to escape and was shot down as he fled up the street.

Crucius and McWaine fled in the stolen cab and wrecked it when they crashed through a railroad crossing gate. Crucius escaped while McWaine was caught.

Last night a patrolman noticed a furtive passerby with a missing left thumb and arrested him. An hour later Crucius had made his incoherent confession.

TEXTBOOKS FOR TEXAS ARE CHANGED TO EXCLUDE ANY TEACHING OF EVOLUTION

By Associated Press.

New York, July 13.—Young Texans are to learn about "development" instead of evolution. New York publishers have altered textbooks for use in Texas, in order to conform with the provisions of the state laws which prohibit the teaching of evolution. "In Healthful Living," by Jesse F. Williams, published by the MacMillan Company the statement "evolution is a slow and gradual process and the skeleton of man is the result of centuries of development," is made to read "The skeletons of the higher forms of animal represent many centuries of development."

"Biology for Beginners" by Truman J. Moon, published by Henry Holt and Company, required drastic changes. A Texas committee demanded the exclusion of three entire chapters and part of a fourth. The chapters striken out dealt with "The development of man," "Methods of Evolution," "The development of civilized man." Pages of chapter on "animals" was also cut. The fifteen paragraphs were cut out "on the theory of evolution as set forth by Darwin is the cornerstone of recent science and the foundation of all modern thought. In its broadest feature it is accepted by every biogist, although there are many details still to be worked out." "The upright position of man is an acquired position. A long time ago the ancestors of man climbed and walked on all fours." Also deleted were sections replying to the charge of anti-evolutionists that the evolution theory is in conflict with religion. The changes have been made in order to obtain the approval of the books by a committee of the Texas Textbook Commission.

MANY BANKS IN GEORGIA CLOSED DOORS THIS WEEK

STATE BANKING DEPARTMENT CONTINUED INVESTIGATION MATTERS TODAY

By Associated Press.

Atlanta, Ga., July 15.—Eighteen more Georgia banks closed their doors today, following in the wake of 49 others which have closed before the bankruptcy proceedings, the State Banking Department announced the closing.

By Associated Press.

Atlanta, Ga., July 15.—The Georgia State Banking Department today, continued investigation into the affairs of 48 financial institutions which have closed their doors since Monday.

At the same time Federal Judge Samuel H. Sibley heard a petition for bankruptcy proceedings against the Bankers Trust Company, operating company for 120 State banks, for which a temporary receivership was named in county court here yesterday.

The embarassment of the Bankers Trust Company was blamed by the Banking Department for the majority of the closings this week. The department emphasized that the closings were not due to local conditions and not any unsoundness or lack of stability of banks in the state.

Commenting on the affairs of the Bankers' Trust Company for which a receivership was asked by the Bank of Umatilla, Fla., the department declared that it had been advised that the condition was brought about by the failure of several banks in Florida in which the corporation was interested and rendered it unable to finance the Georgia banks, for which it acted as fiscal agent.

The Bank of Umatilla charged the Bankers Trust Company obtained $491,500 from it to be placed on investment. It claimed the money had been distributed among the Florida financing institutions to relieve banks in Florida and among Georgia banks for the corporation and to one bank not a member of the chain.

The petition charged that $23,000 of the money was retained by the Bankers Trust Company, for its own use and that only $70,000 of the loan has been paid. It declared the corporation had admitted its inability to pay.

The receivership was asked on the ground that the company and W. D. Manly, president, were insolvent "due to fraudulent misapplication and misuse of funds," and diversions of funds from trust purposes to personal gain and benefit of officers of the corporation."

WOMAN IS HELD AFTER DEATH OF MAN MEDINA LAKE

ALLEGED SHOT WAS MEANT FOR ANOTHER PARTY BUT PASSED THROUGH WALL

By Associated Press.

San Antonio, July 15.—A San Antonio woman was under $1,000 bond Thursday facing a technical charge of murder after the death of H. O. Downey, earlier in the day.

Although remanded without bond when she was arraigned on the murder charge, before Justice of the Peace Anton Adam, she was granted bail on a habeas corpus by Judge W. W. McCory in the Ninety-Fourth District Court.

Her arrest followed an investigation into the shooting of Downey at his lodge at Medina Lake Tuesday night.

"It was accidental," Downey said just before he lapsed into unconsciousness.

Mrs. Downey, however, told the police Thursday that her husband was leaning over the ice box on the porch of his lodge when the bullet struck him. It had been fired from an adjoining room in which a couple was quarreling, she told Chief Street.

The companion of the woman now facing the murder charge was questioned and corroborated Mr. Downey's story. The shot, according to police, missed him and passed through a wall, striking Downey.

The woman declined to make a statement.

By Associated Press.

Winsted, Conn., July 15.—Barricaded in a cottage with its windows boarded up, its water supply cut off and its telephone disconnected, Mrs. Marion Reming of Hartford, today was holding "The Cabin" at Highland Lake near here, while its owner, Lois S. Basing her claim on a marriage contract she claims Griffing made to her Mrs. Heming has laid in a week's supply of provisions and despite lack of water and light, declares she will not leave unless ousted by a court order. Men said to be hired by Griffing remain on guard outside the house ready to seize the property the moment an opportunity presents itself.

BODY YOUNG GIRL FOUND DISMEMBERED BESIDE HIGHWAY

BELIEVED THAT ATTRACTIVE YOUNG WOMAN HAD BEEN DEAD SEVERAL DAYS

By Associated Press.

Boston, July 13.—Boston police today were faced with the most gruesome and baffling murder mystery they have encountered in recent years.

The body of a girl, mutilated, dismembered and unidentified, lay in the city mortuary after it had been discovered early today on a lonely road that winds its way between two cemeteries in the Mattapan district of the city. Police believe the young woman, attractive and apparently refined, had been dead a week and that her body had been cut up and packed into the two boxes and burlap bag in which it was found, some time last Sunday. This was indicated by a superficial examination by medical authorities.

The only clue left for the police to work on was the manner of tying the knots in the heavy window cord that bound the boxes. They were tied apparently by a seaman or some one familiar with the marine knots.

MISSOURI SNAKES ARRIVE AND NOW IN TRAINING TO BATTLE

RATTLERS WILL BE BROUGHT AND FIGHT TO DEATH EXPECTED EARLY DATE

By Associated Press.

San Antonio, July 13.—Two black snakes from Missouri arrived here Tuesday and were put in training at Brackenridge Park for their forthcoming fight with two Texas rattlesnakes. Park Commissioner Ray Lambert, who is conducting arrangements, is assuming that the two species will fight, though their brothers did not when put in the same cage at Houston recently.

The black snakes, five to six feet in length, were shipped here by J. S. Gates of Cross Timbers, Missouri, who started all the discussion about the fighting quality of the reptiles by proposing to send 10,000 black snakes here to exterminate the rattlers.

The black snakes will be fed on rice and rats to insure their strength on the day of the fight.

Two rattlers will be caught in the near future. Lambert has not decided on the date of the engagement.

Lynch Davidson

A "four square" man for Governor

Hear His Friends on the Radio, Station K. F. Q. B., Wave Length 508, Fort Worth, Each Evening.

Tune in, Hear the Truth, Then Vote for the Man Who Does Not Believe in Selling Out Texas to Foreign Corporations.

What Ben. F. Harigel of the LaGrange Journal knows:

"Do not vote your prejudices, but go to the polls and vote your judgment as to who would make the best governor for Texas. This makes the issue plain; I shall favor the election of Lynch Davidson for governor, because, above all else, he is a man of good business qualifications; if entrusted with the afafirs of the State as its governor, I believe that his election would mean the replacing of political chicanery and favoritism with real work for the benefit of all concerned, for the restoration of our governmental afafirs to a plane of respectability, and the placing of the institutions of the State, both penal and elemosynary, in condition that would warrant the confidence in our governor that meritorious service ever demands. We need a change, we need it now worse than at any time in years, and to get that change, we must elect Lynch Davidson. Lynch is the choice of the people who really want a change, he is the choice of a people who oppose corporate influence. If you believe the State needs a strong man now, a real business man who can and will eliminate those features which have startled the world, and are willing to think this over you can well decide for Lynch Davidson. Place him in the run-off and he will be our next governor."

NAVAL COURT MARTIAL IS ORDERED BECAUSE SALUTE HAITIAN PRESIDENT LATE

By Associated Press.

New York, July 14.—An army courtmartial today absolved Colonel James Thornton Watson of all blame for delay in firing a salute to President Louis Norno of Haiti when his ship arrived at New York recently.

It was explained that the salute was fired 15 minutes late because soldiers on Governors Island mistook the President Roosevelt for liner Onicon which President Norno was aboard. The mistake said to have occurred because the Anicon was not decorated with flags and the President Roosevelt was.

By Associated Press.

New York, July 14.—A lieutenant in the army has been ordered courtmartialed because of delay in according presidential salute of 21 guns to Louis Borno, negro president of Hayti, when that official entered the Port of New York on his recent visit. The salute was not fired until the ship had reached her dock.

President Borno on his return to Hayti said he was sure the delay was not intentional. Washington explained that the delay was not intentional, but was due to a misunderstanding. It was thought the incident was closed.

The defendant is Lieutenant Colonel James Thornton Watson of California.

Attention was brought to the tardiness at the time and when President Borno departed from the country, the salute was fired at the exact moment, with a Brigadier General two Colonels, five captains and five lieutenants lined up on Castle William in full regalia.

Colonel Watson was ordered to appear before a military court today with Brigadier General Hugh Drum presiding.

The complaint was made by Colonel Stanley H. Ford, who is regularly in charge of Fort Jay. He was attending the graduation exercises at West Point at the time of President Borno's arrival and Colonel Watson was in charge. The court martial was ordered by Maj. Gen. Charles P. Summerall, commanding officer of the Second Corps Area.

DEMONSTRATION IN SULPHUR DUSTING OF COTTON NEAR ROANE

Farmers from all sections of Navarro county are invited to a sulphur dusting demonstration for control of the cotton flea which has been arranged by the agricultural department of the Chamber of Commerce at the Bryant Cotton Seed Breeding Farms near Roane, on next Saturday, July 17, at 9 o'clock a. m.

The Champion two row, horse drawn dusting machine will be used. This machine is considered one of the most practical for use of the average farmer and is capable of covering about 15 acres per day. The small Springfield hand duster will also be demonstrated.

It is planned to use from 15 to 20 pounds of super-fine sulphur to the acre.

The Bryant farm is considered a particularly good location for this Navarro county sulphur test because the owner, John J. Bryant, is a registered cotton breeder and a close student of cotton conditions.

It is planned to make a very careful check of the effects of the several dustings. Parts of Mr. Bryant's acreage have been heavily infested with the cotton flea or hopper, along with most sections of the county.

After carefully watching results of the fight against this cotton pest in other sections of the state, Mr. Bryant has decided to purchase one or more machines and wage an active campaign and the principal machine which will be used Saturday is now on display at the Chamber of Commerce, where it may be seen by interested farmers.

The dusting will be handled by Mr. Bryant, in co-operation with Henry Gentry, county agent, who is making plans for the demonstration.

An effort is being made to get an expert from A. & M. College to make a talk on the cotton flea and other pests and to discuss with farmers methods of control and to review the success of experiments in other parts of Texas. With the generally healthy conditions of cotton throughout the county the principal fight to insure a good crop is apparently against cotton pests, the principal one in the county now being the cotton flea.

It is believed that every farmer will find it distinctly worth his time to attend this demonstration. This demonstration will give farmers a chance to see the flea and his work and to see the actual methods of combatting this pest, which are the best thus far determined after vigorous tests on the part of government specialists.

Mr. Bryant gave to the Chamber of Commerce today the result of recent observations of the work of the flea on his farm. On July 6 he tagged 15 specimen cotton stalks after carefully checking them over. At this time he found on 15 stalks only 59 newly formed squares. Five days later, on July 11, he recounted the tagged stalks and found 125 squares. These stalks were in the worst infested parts of his acreage and the check was considered promising. On these specimen stalks the flea was still in evidence but was not as active as it was a few days before. This cotton had not been sulphur dusted.

However, Mr. Bryant believes that it will be profitable to treat this cotton and after the demonstration expects to dust his entire acreage, believing that the additional turn-out will show a profit over the expense of treatment. Through the efforts of Mr. Bryant, his Bryant Bred Mebane Cotton Seed, produced in Navarro county, are being grown by progressive farmers in many parts of Texas. He has assured the Chamber of Commerce of his utmost co-operation in the present campaign to minimize the flea damage in this county.

Placards will be placed along the Roane road in the neighborhood of the deonstration in order to direct traffic. A large attendance of farmers is urged.

SHIPPERS ASKED RELEASE GRAIN CARS AS SOON AS POSSIBLE

By Associated Press.

Fort Worth, July 14.—Appeal to chambers of commerce of leading Texas cities were sent out in telegrams Wednesday by Homer D. Wade, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, asking that they do their utmost to get local shippers to release grain cars as rapidly as possible to help relieve the car shortage in West Texas.

Wade said the railroads and the American Railway Association, through its car service division, are doing all they can and that the situation is due to improve.

Meanwhile conditions are still being reported as requiring immediate attention. A telegram from Spearman today stated that about 250000 bushels of wheat had been dumped on the ground there and that Spearman yet has 3,000,000 bushels to ship.

INJUNCTION ASKED TO COMPEL CLOSING BIG SHOW SUNDAYS

By Associated Press.

Philadelphia, July 14.—An injunction aimed to close the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition on Sundays was sought in Common Pleas Court today.

A hearing on the application will be held next Monday.

The complainants were four members of the Methodist Episcopal church committee of 100. They allege that the opening of the exposition on Sundays is in violation of the act of April 22, 1774, one of the so-called "blue laws," and of the act of April 24, 1925, which provided for the participation of the State of Pennsylvania in the exposition and that the exposition be conducted in conformity will all existing laws governing Sunday observance.

The law of 1794 provides a fine of $4 or imprisonment for six days for any individual who violates the Sabbath Day by wordly employment.

Virginia Lady Tells of Taking Cardui and Says She Has Since Recovered Perfect Health.

Lynchburg, Va.—"I have taken Cardui several times for a run-down condition and have found it perfectly splendid," says Mrs. Lee T. Marsh, 715 First Street, this city.

"About ten years ago," she explains, "I became so weak I could not go about. I looked like a skeleton and . . . was dreadfully worried about myself. A friend suggested Cardui and I decided to try it. . . .

"I kept up the medicine until I had taken six bottles. It regulated and built me up. I improved greatly.

"Last year we drove up here through the country from Florida. I was exposed to the weather and must have taken cold, for I became ill . . . I got run-down, lost flesh, . . . could not sleep and had no appetite at all. I was so nervous that I did not know what to do.

"I thought of Cardui. I began to take it regularly and it was not long before I began to feel better. I took six bottles, one after another, and at the finish of the last one was perfectly well again. Since then I have continued gaining in weight and all winter have been in perfect health."

SULPHUR DUSTING CONSIDERED BEST WAY TO KILL FLEA

Reports of the state-wide conference on the control of the cotton flea held in Austin Monday have been studied with much interest by the Agricultural Department of the Chamber of Commerce in an effort to get all available authentic information for use in the local campaign against this cotton pest.

Dr. F. L. Thomas' statement that the proper use of sulphur has shown considerable effectiveness was particularly gratifying. Dr. Thomas is a recognized authority on cotton pests and his experiments have been very painstaking. He was urged some days ago to visit Corsicana for a conference but the pressing emergency has prevented his coming or giving any assurance of a definite engagement here.

Henry Gentry, county agent, spent Monday at the Lavender farms near Wilmer studying the results of sulphur dusting for the cotton flea which has been done under the direction of A. B. Jolley, county agent of Dallas county. The Lavender farms are considered one of the best experiment projects in this section of the state.

Has Faith in Sulphur Dust.

On his return Tuesday morning, Mr. Gentry said that his faith in the effectiveness of sulphur dust was greatly increased by what he had seen on the Lavender farms. This beautiful cotton plantation, a 400 acre block, has been heavily infested with the flea. About 75 acres have been given two treatments of sulphur dust under somewhat adverse conditions. An ideal treatment is considered a series of about three dustings wit some 15 or 20 pounds of superfine sulphur about five days apart, without any rains during the course of the applications. However, these 75 acres have received only two dustings, seven days apart with intervening rains.

After carefully checking through the treated acreage, Mr. Gentry said that they had found no young fleas, although there were some adult pests, and that the cotton had begun to show favorable fruitting. This was in marked contrast with the untreated acreage where infestation had shown practically no signs of diminishing and little new fruiting.

Mr. Gentry reported Mr. Lavender as saying that he was rather well pleased with the sulphur treatment and would see some conclusive results.

"There's not near the infestation in this cotton as there was when we began sulphur dusting," Mr. Lavender stated, "while there is practically no difference in the undusted cotton."

Results in Smith County.

Elbert Gentry, county agent of Smith county, who has received prominent attention for the remarkable agricultural development made in the Tyler section, in telephone conversation with his brother, the Navarro county agent, declared that they had sulphur-treated some of their five acre contest plots and were getting noticeable results, wih the weather unfavorable for dusting.

After checking the experience of various investigators in the cotton belt and based on his own observations, the local agent believes that much of the doubt as to the effectiveness of sulphur dusting has been caused by using sulphur in too small quantities, through improper application, and waiting too long for additional dustings. He explained that the sulphur dust destroyed the younger fleas but does not destroy the adult ones, so that heavy amounts of sulphur are necessary and should be applied after every five or six days until the flea is destroyed. Rain limits the effectiveness of the dusting. Mr. Gentry advised the use of from 15 to 20 pounds per acre.

Machines Received Here.

Two machines, on a large horse machine capable of handling up to 60 acres per day, were received by Electric freight at the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday and are being set up by Mr. Gentry as demonstrators for farmers interested. One of the machines is the walking style, two row, one mule type, for the smaller farm, with a capacity of about 15 acres a day and retails around $100. The larger machine costs in excess of $200. These are the Niagra dusters which can be used not only for sulphur to fight the flea but for other dry poisons to fight various cotton insects.

Farmers are urged to visit the Chamber of Commerce and inspect these machines. There is also on display a small Springfield hand duster for one row at a time which sells at about $7.00.

With continued showers Mr. Gentry is concerned over the possible appearance here of the leaf worm, and cautious Navarro county farmers to keep a careful lookout for their first appearance.

Leaf Worm Feared.

R. R. Repert, entomologist of College Station, in a report received yesterday, declares that this cotton leaf worm has already appeared in Texas. He says that its progress was slow at the start but that infestation is spreading and that it is the belief of the Extension Service that damage from this pest will become more of less general over the Eastern part of Texas during July, extending toward the Panhandle country probably early in August. This is especially to be feared, he explains, if the showers continue.

"The cotton flea has delayed the fruiting of cotton," says Mr. Reppert. "This damage is expected soon to cease, but a condition has been created that makes it unusual desirable to prevent the ravages of the leaf worm for the remainder of the season. Consequently farmers should keep a close ewatch for the appearance of this latter pest and be fully prepared to control it on its first appearance.

"Calcium arsenate is the best poison to use, considering its cheapness and effectiveness. This may be dusted on by the pole and bag method, but preferably by means of some type of dusting machine. Best results are obtained if dusting is done while the dew is on the plants, so the poison may adhere; but usually enough adheres to the plants, even when applied during the heat of the day, or in the dry climate, to make it highly effective. Use from three to six pounds per acre according to the size of the plant. The next best poison to use is lead arsenate. Apply in the same amount as is recommended for calcium arsenate."

With the exception of cotton pests Navarro county promises to have a splendid cotton yield and the Agricultural Department of the Chamber of Commerce is determined to co-operate with farmers to the limit in order to save the crop.

PLANS LAID MAKE CORSICANA-MEXIA ROADS PASSABLE

At a meeting of representatives of all industries at the Chamber of Commerce headquarters Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock plans were discussed and various speakers were heard relative to the proposed making of a determined effort to secure a better road between Corsicana and Mexia since the opening up of a new oil field in the Nigger Creek sector. It was pointed out that Corsicana would probably receive a large portion of the overflow crowd and business from the boom due to the hotel and apartment accommodations. The meeting was advised that Commissioners Jack Megarity and Ruben Milligan had agreed to keep the road to Richland in as good shape as possible via Angus. It was decided to make an effort to get the State Highway Commission to keep the State highway toward Mexia in as good condition as possible.

W. P. McCammon member of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce presided. It was stated that the conference was called by those who believed in the boom at Mexia. It was pointed out that Waco was making a strong bid for the overflow business of the Mexia sector. Many of the operators will make Corsicana their headquarters if the boom comes up to the expectations of who are in close touch with the situation it was pointed out in the discussion. Corsicana has a chance with the hotel accommodations, to draw the overflow business out of Mexia. It was pointed out that the county commissioners could not work on the State highways, but the lower road via Angus was in the commissioners' precincts and could be worked. Commissioner Jack Megarity stated that he would work the road in his precinct to Richland Creek and Joe B. Fortson stated that he had been advised by Commissioner Ruben Milligan that as soon as the weather conditions improved, he would work the road south of Richland Creek. The meeting went on record as thanking Commissioners Megarity and Milligan for the interest shown in the matter.

Considerable discussion concerning the proposed sending a committee to Austin to appear before the State Highway Commission relative to more work on the road during the present emergency was had, but nothing definite was determined upon. A definite announcement is expected from the committee in charge relative to this proceedure within the next day or two.

J. O. Osborne, oil man, stated that much of the land from the Nigger Creek area to Corsicana had been leased by the large companies and that he was of the opinion that much drilling would be made and that the territory west of the Balconnes Fault would be thoroughly tested and that in his opinion, Corsicana was destined to experience the greatest boom in its history, even greater than the Powell boom. He urged the citizens of Corsicana to prepare for this boom by getting all of the roads in good condition so that the traffic can be handled properly.

The proposed asking for a special train from Corsicana to Mexia was spoken of but nothing definite was decided upon.

VACATIONS.

Whether anticipation is more desirable than realization, nobody can say. It is a question of infinite debate, with something to be said on both sides. Very much depends on the particular objective at stake. In the matter of vacations, for instance, anticipation plays a major part. On a sultry day, when shop, office, and store are places of sweat and swelter, it is refreshing to dream of shady nooks, music of chattering brooks, and trout-streams where in the deep dark pools speckled beauties abound. As the long, stuffy afternoon wears away, there is a satisfaction in dreaming of cool, wind-swept verandas with easy chairs and at your right hand, a tall glass, a long straw, and the tinkle of ice in your ears. Yes, there's a lot of pleasure in the prospect of the annual outing, and this is just as it should be.

The good of a vacation consists largely of change and re-creation. Relaxation is a big item; freedom from the grind is an ingredient, and the thrill of being out of harness gives tang to vacations. City folks are foolish about the country, and rightly so. Country and small-town people usually find the cities diverting, and for a brief period refreshing and entertaining. By the same token, seafaring persons should seek their recreations on land, and landsmen "put out to sea" or take a boat trip on the Great Lakes. The simpler the vacation, the better. Elaborate wardrobes, heaps of luggage, high-falutin' resorts—these are the plague of only a comparative few. Travel light, if you want a good time. Fussiness is the bane of life and never more so than when one is vacation bent.

Many centuries ago, there lived One whom the common people heard gladly. A Man He was who loved the grand simplicities of life, and a toiler to the end of His days. Once, when weary with the crowd, He found it necessary to go apart and "rest awhile." He took passage on a little boat and went over to the other side of the lake, but when He landed there, lo, the multitudes were there also. He could not avoid them. He did not try to, He had compassion upon them. They were hungry and He fed them. In this, as in many other things, the Great Teacher left us an example, for wherever we go we are bound to meet people, all kinds of people, and in one way or another they will make demands of us. The contact of personality on personality counts, and possibly more so in days and places of relaxation than in the every-day roun dof affairs. Count that vacation lost that leaves no memory of human fellowships, generous good-will, and that kindly intimate touch of noble human nature that makes the whole world kin.

SEE WHAT A BIG MAN DID.

Jeremiah Smith, shrewd, competent, straight-dealing New Englander, has made an enviable record as high commissioner of the League of Nations in Hungary. Budapest received him sulkily as a schoolmaster and very shortly learned to respect his judgments and revere his loyal spirit.

When Mr. Smith reached Budapest to take up his task, the government lodged him in a palace; he took one brief look, declined the extravagant residence and took two small rooms at the top of a hotel.

The Hungarians of all parties grew to honor him and trusted him implicitly. As he has generously said many times, the success of his difficult task of rehabilitating Hungarian finances was due primarily to the patriotic co-operation of the Hungarian people. Of them he spoke always with high admiration, crediting them with an integrity which was at once a challenge and an inspiration to them.

Jeremiah Smith closed his desk; his task done; he called on Premier Bethlen to say goodbye. The premier handed him a check for $100,000, representing his salary for two years' work in Hungary.

"Give it to charity," said the American, handing back the check to the astonished premier. "Your poor need it more than I do."

"But it is your compensation for your two years' service to us," protested Count Bethlen.

"The only compensation I desire for my work is the appreciation and friendship of the Hungarian people."

"But the vouchers already have been issued by the state and their entry can not be altered in the treasury books," persisted the premier.

"Then re-enter it in your books as a gift from the American people to the people of Hungary," replied Mr. Smith, with finality.

And so with a noble gesture closed a nobly-performed task.

SLANG SLINGERS, GIVE HEED.

Oh for somebody who will report base ball as some of the English writers report cricket! Take as highest example, that finely-educated gentleman who too modestly conceals his identity under the pseudonym "Cricketer" when he writes Meredithian English for the Manchester Guardian.

"As the game began," he said, reporting the struggle between Yorkshire and the Australians at Sheffield, "a few wan wisps of sunshine struggled on high to come through the smoky air to perish utterly in the afternoon's steady encircling gloom. At three o'clock Bramall Lane was a dark pit; the leaden sky pressed down and the squat stands and the tenement outside the ground seemed to shut us in tight. I expected to hear any moment the hideous bark of Cerberus."

Speaking of Macartney, one of the best Australian batsmen: "His cricket has all the Figaro characteristics—I mean the Figaro of Rossini, not of Mozart; it is light in movement but full of animal energy and spirit; it is impudent and yet likable. And with all the brilliance and mastery of it there is somewhere the flavor of cynicism."

Again: "Andrews, trying to turn on his tracks, fell on the slippery pitch and writhed in the mud, and was out by inches. Andrews came back to the pavilion, a pitiful sight to see; his face a death's-head of despair and his white flannels obscene with a slime."

Picturesque writing, but exact reporting, as delightful for its style to the man who knows little about cricket as it is accurate and analytic to him who understands all the fine points of the game. Who is there who will—or can—write about Babe Ruth and Ty Cobb in this fashion?

When a politician doesn't know the answer he says he will take the matter under advisement. If a doctor is baffled he puts the patient under observation. If a garage hand doesn't know what's wrong he says it is the generator.

Progress: Passing a federal law requiring all railroads to equip themselves with devices which will stop trains that go past danger signals. Holding an autopsy after the wreck to determine its cause.

After 25 years of intense thinking by thousands of scientists and high-priced engineers, an epoch-making means of carrying sound is finally perfected. Then it is used to transmit harmonica solos.

From Sandburg's Life of Lincoln: "The entire cost of Lincoln's nomination, including headquarters, telegraphing, music, fares of delegation and other incidentals was less than $700."

The consensus of opinion from a great number of sources is that Pennsylvania probably isn't going to get $3,000,000 worth of senator.

GREAT ACTIVITY IN NIGGER CREEK AREA NEAR MEXIA

Mexia, Texas, July 13.—Heavy buying of the last forty-eight hours in the Nigger Creek area is expected to continue with prices mounting still higher.

Representatives of many Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas oil companies are here to gain first-hand reports on the new strike, which some declare may mean the opening of a major field, the first of 1926. Three firms control the acreage largely on the Nigger Creek structure, the Transcontinental, the Pure and the Reiter-Foster Oil Corporation. The E. L. Smith Oil Company is the next in importance, holding about 700 acres in the field and owning more royalties probably than any other one concern.

The Nigger Creek structure was discovered in 1921. It was originally geologized by the Humphreys interests. W. A. Reiter and W. H. Foster, then with the Humphreys Oil Company, made the reports.

Later these men headed the Reiter-Foster Oil Corporation, which has about 450 acres in the area.

According to W. T. Jones, production superintendent for the Pure Oil Company, the company has not yet completed its immediate drilling plans for the Nigger Creek district.

In the meantime one derrick is being erected by the company on its twenty-five acre lease northeast of the discovery Rosson a few locations, and Saturday a crew began laying water lines for the campaign with the bit.

Work is also going forward on the Stockton No. 1 of the Pure Oil Company at Groesbeck. A nice sand has been encountered there and Mr. Jones says the drillers are cautiously feeling their way. This well has been producing some oil for several weeks, and was on the pump for a while and then a few days ago the work of deepening it was begun. The total depth is now around 3,156 feet. As soon as conditions warrant a drilling campaign of considerable proportions may be stated there.

One of the largest deals reported Saturday was that of A. H. Bell of Waco, who sold to the Godley Oil Company several tracts totaling 100 acres for $150,000. The Gulf secured a tract about three-quarters of a mile northeast of the Transcontinental Rosson well on a $2,000 per acre basis.

Phillip and Lon Wallet of Waco let contracts for six wells to Cranfill, Reynolds & Hughes. These wells are understood to go northeast of the discovery well on several different tracts.

ANOTHER SHALLOW WELL TO BE SUNK ZION'S REST AREA

Dr. W. D. Fountain, Marvin Treadwell and Sam Gooden have started the drilling of another shallow well in the Zion's Rest community. This is the second shallow well to be put down by the same parties. The first one was completed several weeks ago, and is producing under the pump several barrels of oil a day. This is considered a part of the old Corsicana shallow field.

The Washington Oil Corporation of Seattle have a shallow well, recently drilled by C. E. Bass, field manager for this company, just a short distance west of the Fountain et al well. There is a strong likelihood of several shallow wells to be drilled in this area lying northeast of Corsicana, which no doubt will result in considerable new production. This also lies in the line with the back fault district, and may be the scene of deep wells later on.

The Nigger Creek district, which is now looked upon as the opener for a new group of deep fields lying behind the Balcones Fault zone, may extend as far northeasterly as the Powell field, or a greater distance.

CORSICANA MAN WINNER IN COLOR SCHEME CONTEST

The Wm. Cameron Lumber Company of Waco recently offered prizes for decorative or color schemes for homes in various classes and just as a diversion W. P. McCammon of the McCammon & Lang Lumber Company of this city entered the contest and has been notified that he was the first prize winner. The contest covered four color schemes and decorations for living room, dining room, guest bedroom, owner's bedroom, girl's bedroom, boy's bedroom, breakfast room, sleeping porch, kitchen, sanitas, bath room.

The basis upon which the judges awarded the prizes was as follows: First, color harmony of the entire house and individuality of each room; second, type of paper most appropriate to the particular room where used; third, quality of paper, the better quality of paper in the most important rooms; fourth, the most attractive results obtained for the amount of money expended.

Mr. McCammon is well known for his artistic taste in decorative matters and the fact that he was awarded first prize will not be a surprise to any of his friends here, although it comes as a distinct honor especially as there were many entrants in the contest, the Wm. Cameron Company being one of the largest concerns in the state.

MOODY MAKES NEW CHARGES IN HIGHWAY MATTER AT NEWTON

CLAIMED THAT FERGUSON HAD ACTED FOR STATE DEPARTMENT

-o-

By Associated Press.

Newton, Texas, July 15.—Charges that James E. Ferguson had acted for the Highway department and made promises in its behalf, were made here today in a speech by Attorney General Dan Moody, candidate for Governor.

Moody exhibited letters written on state stationery, purported to be signed by James E. Ferguson, in which the county Judge of Wharton county was asked to place $900,000 of the county funds the proceeds of a bond election, to the credit of the Highway Department.

Moody charged that these letters showed that Ferguson "had set himself up as speaker for the highway commission."

"This is just another indication of Fergusonism," said Moody. "It is because of just such conditions that I have dedicated my campaign to ridding Texas of Jim Ferguson. Without official responsibility, he is acting for the Governor and is in fact the Governor, though he is unaccountable to the people.

"And now he has the effrontery to ask you to elect his wife in order that he may continue this farce of government."

Moody devoted a portion of his address to various planks in his platform, including tax reduction, high appreciation for public schools, safeguards about the highway commission, and management of the state prison system.

He speaks tonight at Jasper.

Davidson expressed a belief in his carrying the entire state by an easy majority, in the gubernatorial race.

He will deliver a campaign speech Thursday on Alamo Plaza.

The Outlook is Good in Navarro County

There has never been a more evenly seasoned year than this. There has never been greater opportunities in Corsicana and Navarro County than right now. What we need is optimists. You can't beat a hard-working, optimistically inclined, busy, long visioned community. There are good things ahead—let's claim them.

More oil is being developed.

J Walter Little of the Pleasant Grove community brought to the Sun office Wednesday afternoon two stock beets, one measured 6 inches in circumference and 7 inches long and weighed 6 ounces, the other measured 19 inches around and was 17 inches long and weighed 10 pounds. The beets were grown three feet apart in exactly the same kind of soil and were planted at the same time, the difference being in fertilizer. The ground in which the larger beet was grown was fertilized and the other was not. Mr. Little has about three-fourths of an acre in these beets. COUNTY NEWS

Emhouse News.

Special to the Sun.

Emhouse, Texas, July 15.—The union Methodist meeting is now in progress at the tabernacle. There have been fairly good crowds at each service although the weather has been very favorable. We hope everyone will attend the meeting and help in every way to bring about a revival in Emhouse, which is very much needed.

J. A. Boyd has returned from a visit to his farm near Quanah, Texas.

Mrs. C. L. Day and daughter Emma of Midlothian are spending the week here with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Drain and family left by auto Monday night for Plainview where they will visit Mr. Drain's brother. They were accompanied by Cufe Reid.

Mrs. Chas. Maggard and children have returned home after several weeks visit to her mother in Fort Worth.

Mr. R. A. Johnson, Sr., continues very ill at this writing. We hope to hear of his improving before many days.

Miss Hazel Goodwin of Rice was the week-end guest of Miss Mildred Maggard.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Collins of near Corsicana were here Monday visiting relatives.

Mr. Le Roy Jones and wife of Houston are here spending several days with relatives and friends.

The farmers of our community are rejoicing over the fine rain we have had. There will be one of the best corn crops made here that we have had in several years. The cotton flea is doing considerable damage to the crop in some places. There seems to be very little that can be done on a small scale to eradicate the pest.

We are glad to report Mrs. Derden somewhat improved this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Boyd of Corsicana and Mr. Henry Derden of Athens were here Sunday evening, visiting in the home of A. Derden and family.

Rice News.

RECEPTION WILL BE GIVEN IN HONOR NURSE GRADUATES

OPEN HOUSE NEW NURSES HOME FRIDAY EVENING, JULY 16TH

An informal reception and entertainment will be given at the new nurses' home of the Navarro County Hospital Friday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock, according to an announcement given out by the hospital authorities. The affair is in the nature of an open house for the new building and in honor of Misses Georgie Thompson and Kathryn Smith, graduates for 1926 of the hospital training school for nurses.

There will be no regular graduation exercises as has heretofore been the custom but the general public is invited to the reception and entertainment that will feature this occasion in honor of these two young ladies who have finished their nursing course. The new nurses' home has been occupied for some time but there has not been held a reception or open house for the public to visit the home so this will be an opportunity to not only inspect this handsome and modern new building but to pay honor to two very deserving and popular young ladies.

Miss Jessie Armstrong, superintendent of the Navarro County Hospital, and all others connected with the institution extend a cordial invitation to the general public to attend this reception and entertainment and inspect the new nurses' home on this occasion.

Keep Your Hens Laying

That is easier said than done. For the past few months that has been easy, but they are slowing up now, and many of them will quit altogether but much may be done to keep up the egg supply and prolong the laying season by proper feeding.

Try this formulae and note results: Feed all the Ful-o-Pep Egg Mash the hens will eat, feed one third of the weight of mash eaten during the day, of Ful-o-Pep Scratch grains at night—only one feed a day—give them plenty of fresh water and plenty of green stuff.

DON'T TRY to make your hens lay through their moult. When they begin to moult cut out the mash and feed lots of grain and rich fattening feed and they will get through and be ready for business quicker.

ADDITIONAL BODIES TAKEN FROM AREA WRECKED RESULT EXPLODING AMMUNITION DEPOT

By Associated Press.

Dover, N. J., July 13.—Soldiers, sailors and marines hunted for their dead on Jersey's peace time battlefield today.

Through the blackened ruins of the Lake Denmark region, where a vagrant bolt of lightning set loose a gunless bombardment in the navy ammunition depot, searching parties of armed men stretcher bearers conducted systematically.

No torn field or shattered building, no splintered piece of woods, escaped attention. If dead were still lying among the debris who had been saved were determined to find the bodies that they might at last be honored for the manner of their dying.

If wounded, shell shocked or otherwise incapacitated roamed the woods or lay helpless in shell holes, the searchers planned to find them and bring them aid.

The searchers were men of war, but they proved themselves no less efficient when sent on a mission of peace and mercy. And while they worked, plans were under way by their superiors for investigations looking toward prevention of such a disaster again taking its toll of life and property.

The body of the twentieth victim, Mrs. John Wadhams, of Lake Denmark, was found today in the wreckage of her home by her husband who is chief civilian clerk at the depot.

By Associated Press.

Dover, N. J., July 13.—Cessation of bombardment by shells today warranted uninterrupted recovery of the dead and help to the living on New Jersey's peace-time battlefield.

Several hundred soldiers and marines were on duty about Lake Denmark Naval depot in search for additional victims of exploding ammunition which after a flash of lightning Saturday afternoon reduced the depot and miles of surrounding country to ruin.

From a no-man's-land due to an act of nature there have been brought in today parts of seventeen bodies, ten of which were identified. Shifting winds which took expiring flames toward unexploded magazines caused stoppage of explorations yesterday afternoon by order of Secretary of the Navy Wilbur, who visited the devastated area.

Brigadier General Hugh A. Drum, in charge of patrols and rescue work, was of the opinion today, however, that danger from further explosions was past.

Bodies were taken to the Naval Hospital in Brooklyn and put beside those of other men of the Navy who perished on duty in peace time—victims of the submarine S-51.

With few exceptions finger prints and other minute records were necessary in the work of identification.

Two boards will be named by Secretary Wilbur to investigate the explosion, which, aside from the loss of life, destroyed fifty buildings and seriously damaged 400 others, and made 350 families homeless.

Six of the 17 bodies taken from the area yesterday were those of marines who were on duty at the depot. They were identified as follows.

Barker, Virgil C., private, Mount Sterling, Ky.

Powell, Ernest, private, Hamilton, Ohio.

Alfson, Orlando, private, Farmington, Minn.

Weber, Frank C., private, Cleveland Ohio.

Monroe, John, private, Richmond, Va.

Elson, Mason, trumpeter, Evansville, Ind.

Previously identified bodies were those of:

Bott, George W., Jr., lieutenant, Richmond, Va.

Feeney, Mrs. Frances, of Brooklyn.

Brown, Harry Chalsian, pharmacist's mate, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Hardaker, Morris, of Gallaway, Fla.

Like the heroes of the S-51, their companions now in death, the marines died in course of duty. They perished advancing toward the enemy.

Secretary Wilbur after his tour said the position of the bodies indicated that the marines died while gong toward the danger.

"We think they were members of the squad that was running to the fire when the explosion snuffed out their lives," he said.

Fort Worth Man Perished.

By Associated Press.

Washington, July 13.—The Navy Department today added the name of Private Ralph Van F. Graham to the list of Marine dead in the New Jersey disaster. His mother is Mrs. Marie V. Graham, Fort Worth, Texas.

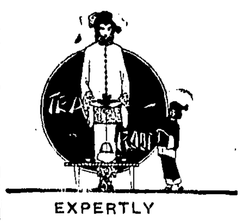

By Associated Press.

New York, July 13.—Identification of two more bodies taken from the devastated area at Lake Denmark, N. J., was reported at Brooklyn Naval Hospital today. They were Lieut. Herman Schrader, United States Navy, Long Beach, Cal., and Frank Carl Weber, private, United States Marine Corps, Cleveland, Ohio.

By Associated Press.

New York, July 13.—Revised list of victims of the explosion of the Lake Denmark, N. J., Naval arsenal this afternoon showed 13 identified and six unidentified dead taken from the devastated area.

WHITE MAN CHARGED SHOOTING OF THREE NEGRO CHILDREN

ALLEGED TO HAVE BEEN SHOOTING AT NEGRO MAN NEAR BETHEL COMMUNITY

A merchant and land owned in the Dawson community, a white man, has been arrested and released on bail in each of four complaints for alleged assault with intent to murder in connection with the alleged shooting of three negro children in the Bethel community late Saturday. Three negro children, girls, aged seven years, four years and seven months are in the Navarro County Hospital here suffering the effect of gunshot wounds in the bodies and face alleged to have been received when the white man shot at the father of the children following an altercation. The shooting is said to have occurred after an altercation between the white man and negro over work. The negro is a tenant on the farm of the white man.

One of the eyes of the baby has been removed and it is expected that both eyes of the seven-year-old girl who was holding the baby at the time the shots were fired will be removed. The other child did not receive serious wounds

The complaints were gotten out of the justice court at Dawson and the man was arrested by Constable George Jones at the house of the negro early Sunday morning, according to reports. It is said that the white man fired two times and that the negro fired back. Neither of the two men were hit by shot.
